a road, and as she was found to be "dangerous to traffic", she was placed before the Magistrate and then sent to the Lunatic Asylum Bangalore, for observation under (provisions corresponding to) S 12 or S 14 of the Lunacy Regulation. The Superintendent then informed the District Magistrate, C and Station that the alleged lunatic was in the Asylum 20 years ago, that she ordinarily resided in Tiptur, Tumkur District and that the previous reception order should have been produced. The last observation about the production of the previous reception order ~~was~~ is not correct, as the action was not taken by the Magistrate on a petition under S 4 of the Lunacy Regulation or any corresponding provision in

3) The District Magistrate, Tumkur who is now asked to send a reception order is perfectly right in refusing to ~~send~~ pass an order in the absence of an application by the relatives ~~and~~ or when the alleged lunatic is not produced before him by the Police under S 11 or 13.

4) The District Magistrate, C & M Station, Bangalore, could send lunatics found within his jurisdiction to the Lunatic Asylum and the cost of the maintenance of such lunatics should be borne by the C & M Station authorities. He cannot however be appointed a Magistrate under the Mysore Lunacy Regulation as suggested by the Tumkur District Magistrate, as the Regulation has no force in the C.M. Stations. The C.M. Station authorities are bound by their own law, and the Asylum in Mysore, by agreement between the Residency and the Durbar an asylum also for C.M. Stations. The suggestion that the C.M. Station Police should be directed to produce their lunatics before the City Magistrate Bangalore, cannot be accepted.

5) In this case, action was taken by the Magistrate on the production of the lunatic before him on the ground that she was a wandering & dangerous lunatic, and the question as to where she actually resides or resided does not arise in such cases. The proper person upon whom the execution order is to be the Magistrate, C.M. Station. If approved, the District Magistrate, Tumkur will be informed accordingly.

The question as to where the lunatic actually resides or resided does not arise in this case as the action was taken by the Magistrate on the production of the lunatic before him on the ground that the man was a wandering or dangerous lunatic found within the limits of the C & M Station. The proper authority to pass the reception order is the District Magistrate, C & M Station who can send lunatics found within his jurisdiction to the Lunatic Asylum, the cost of the maintenance of such lunatics being borne by the C & M Station Authorities.

2. I am also to observe by your that the suggestions made in the last paragraph of your letter under reply cannot be accepted by Government as the Lunacy Regulations as no force in the Civil & Military Station. The C & M Station authorities are bound by their own land & the Asylum in Mysore is, by Virtue of an agreement between the Resident & the Durbar, an Asylum for the C & M Station &c.
